Notice to librarians: This supplement consists of two parts, the preliminary pages, and the index proper, When bound volumes Electronics Record are made up, the preliminary pages should be inserted before the quarterly issues, and the index sho appear at the end of the bound volume.

The Proceedings IEE (prior to 1949, the Journal) is copyright under the Berne Convention and the International Copyright Convention. All rights reserved. Apart from any copying under the UK Copyright Act 1956, part I, section 7, whereby a single copy of an article may be supplied, under certain conditions, for the purposes of research or private study, by a library of a class prescribed by the UK Board of Trade Regulations (Statutory Instruments, 1957, no. 868), no part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system or transmitted in any form or by any means without the prior permission of the copyright owners. Permission is, however, not required to copy abstracts of papers or articles on condition that a full reference to the source is shown. Multiple copying of any part of the publication without permission is always illegal.
The IEE appreciates that, on certain occasions, it could be very useful for organisations to be able to make copies of articles and papers. An IEE licensing arrangement exists whereby organisations entering into an agreement are legally entitled to make up to ten copies of an IEE paper or article. Full details may be obtained from the IEE Publishing Department, PO Box 8, Southgate House, Stevenage, Herts. SG1 1HQ, England.

The appearance of the code at the bottom of the first page of an article in this volume indicates the copyright owner's consent that copies of the article may be made in the USA for personal or internal use, or for the personal or internal use of specific clients. This consent is given on the condition, however, that the copier pay the stated per-copy fee through the Copyright Clearance Center, Inc. for copying beyond that permitted by Sections 107 or 108 of the US Copyright Law. This consent does not extend to other kinds of copying, such as copying for general distribution, for advertising or promotional purposes for creating new collective works or for resale. Payment is additionally required for copying of articles published prior to 1979.
